KENTUCKIANS EN-ROUTE TO FRISCO

"Overland Special" to Carry Ky. Delegation. Women in The Party.

Kentucky's delegation to the National Democratic Convention in San Francisco is speeding on its way having left Louisville, Monday night on the "Overland Special." There were sixteen in the party leaving Louisville and they were joined by other Kentuckians in Chicago.

The women of the State will feature in this convention as they did in the Republican gathering at Chicago. The women who will cast votes will be Mrs. G. M. Johnson, of Jenkins, Miss Lula Cox, Calhoun, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Frankfort, and Mrs. Nora Layne, Ft. Thomas.

Before the delegation left messages were received from all over the State urging the Kentucky delegates to let the prohibition situation remain as it is. There was some talk of even going further and of fighting for a dry plank in the platform. Western Kentucky editors have been pushing the dry plank.

Senator Stanley, Congressman Johnson, Judge Thomas H. Rhea, Senator Beckham and Congressman Barkley, joined the Kentucky delegates on the special.

W. B. GARDNER'S DEATH SUDDEN

Prominent Resident of Stephensonport Succumbed After Brief Illness. Buried in Irvington.

Stephensonport, June 21. (Special)—This village was brought to grief by the sudden death of William B. Gardner on the morning of June 11th, at 9:15 o'clock, after a very short illness. He was fifty-four years old.

Mr. Gardner professed faith in Christ, several years ago, and united with the Baptist church of which he was a member when the death summons came. While at work a few weeks ago, he remarked to his friend, "I have ceased to live by the years, I only live now by the day," showing that, perhaps in the last month he knew more of bodily pain than ever close friends knew, yet his habit of wholesome humor never failed him, being noted for his affable kindly disposition and was a devoted husband and father.

In the home-going of this brother, the community has lost one of its best citizens and relatives and neighbors, one of their best friends.

Mr. Gardner was twice married, his first wife being Miss Ruth Cunningham, who died several years ago, and to this union were born twins, Miss Nannie Lee and G. B. Gardner, of Chenault, who survive him. His second wife was Mrs. Georgia Sargent to whom he was married, October 23, 1911, and who survives him.

Left to mourn their loss is a devoted wife, three children, two sisters two brothers, John and Newsom Gardner, of Irvington, as well as a host of friends.

Short funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. B. Gentry at the home at 9 o'clock, Sunday morning, where a large concourse of friends and relatives gathered. Immediately after the services the body was taken to Irvington, accompanied by friends and relatives, for interment.

Burial at Irvington.

OUR CHAUTAUQUA.

Cloverport's to have a chautauqua again this summer. The guarantors, many of whom are the same ones as last year, are to be commended for bringing the chautauqua to us this summer after the financial loss they suffered last year. Few people realize the time, the work and the money that is involved in bringing a chautauqua to a community, therefore we are gratified with the citizens of Cloverport who are unselfish in affording the men women and children of our town and community this pleasure.

The chautauqua last summer proved to be four days of real pleasure and recreation for everyone. It was a happy diversion from the daily grind of business and of household work, and it brought us in touch with friends whom we hadn't seen in months. Upon the whole the program was good, and there were only a few who failed to find any pleasure in it at all. At any rate, the chautauqua circuits that come to us provide far more elevating, cleaner and more wholesome entertainment than one can find on the show boats, even though they may not be the highest priced entertainers.

Since this is the only chautauqua that will be in Breckinridge county this summer, so far as we know, we hope to see our friends from all over the county attend it. If you have relatives living in Cloverport write them now that you are coming to visit them July 20th to 24th. And if they are made up of the stuff that all true Kentuckians are, and of course they are if they abide here, they'll write you to "Come on". Nearly every Breckinridge county farmer has a "flivver," and those who haven't are still clinging to old dobbin, and this will be an opportunity for you to have a vacation as well as giving one to the faithful wife and to the little ones, even if it is for only an afternoon and evening. It is only four weeks off, but that's time enough to make your plans to be with us for a season of pleasure.

SEEING THROUGH THEIR OWN GLASSES.

It is thoroughly interesting as well as a bit amusing to notice the comments of the daily press upon the election of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee for President.

The New York Sun and Herald sees through Republican eyes and said: "In the nomination of Warren G. Harding the Republican party has done the wisest thing it could have done. In personal appearance Senator Harding is a superb type of the American man."

Upon the other hand, the New York World, a thoroughly Democratic paper, had this to say:

"Senator Harding was nominated because the Old Guard Republicans want a President to whom they can give orders—a President who will take orders. Accordingly they present their puppet candidate in the person of Warren G. Harding, of Ohio."

"Senator Harding is the perfect flower of Old Guard politics. He is an Ohio country politician with the mind of an Ohio country politician. Being weak colorless and mediocre, he appealed powerfully to the managing politician who control the Republican organization, most of whom are Senators themselves. They know Harding, and they know that he will be a faithful agent of the organization. They have worked with him, and they can prove that he never had an original idea or entertained a thought that was outside the routine of a well-trained and well-disciplined party servant."

Jos Mulhatton, Jr., of Carter's Landing, has a good deal to say this week about the bad roads leading from Cloverport out to his home and on to Addison and Stephentown. We understand that the citizens of Stephentown, Addison and Holt are anxious and willing to meet the citizens of Cloverport in the expense of making this road up the river passable the year round. It would certainly be to the advantage of our merchants to open up this means of bringing trade to Cloverport, and unless we do get busy and help build these inter-county roads we are going to wake up some fine morning and find some other place getting the trade that rightfully belongs to us. Keep after us Joe, until we come over and help you out of the hole.

We often read in the newspapers where someone has robbed a child's bank, stolen the savings of a blind person, or taken undue advantage of some one of lesser will-power. Such people are often referred to as "The Meanest Man."

The Meanest Man, in our estimation, is the one who takes advantage of a person in unfortunate circumstances by buying that person's War Savings Stamps at a discount.

If you find yourself in dire need of money you can cash in your Stamps at your post office by applying to the postmaster ten days in advance.

One of the joys of automobilizing is to drive through a town and observe the homes where the lawns are kept trimmed, the weeds never allowed to grow in the pavements or in the gutters, and flowers and shrubs adorn the place. Every home can be made attractive if we spend a little time and energy on it, and it certainly helps to improve the looks of a town.

Plans are already on foot to restore a log cabin in Morrow county Ohio, the birth place of Senator Harding. Is Ohio counting on having an Abe Lincoln?

We are patiently waiting for the Census Bureau to give us the population of Cloverport.

Won't you be glad when we get our new concrete bridge?

And now all eyes are on San Francisco.

FARM AND STOCK

Jackson Bros. have moved their saw mill from the Tar Springs to the Ruble Hawkins' farm at Holt's Bottom.

Richard Hawkins and his twelve year old son, Layman, of Hardinsburg No. 2 were in Cloverport last week Mr. Hawkins says his son is a great help to him on their farm and they work side by side every day.

W. T. Mattingly, who has been running a saw-mill for F. Leborvitz & Son near Hawesville returned home last week. Said he was given the distinguished honor of being one of the best sawyers in a bunch of four for turning out the best and cleanest cut lumber on the yard. Mr. Mattingly is very proud of the honor. He says Mr. Leborvitz is the finest man he ever worked for.

The cool spell of weather last week was hard on vegetation and crops. Some warm rains and more sunshine are needed to help the gardens.

Red raspberries are on the market selling for $1.00 gallon. With sugar selling at the local stores for 27½c per pound, and scarce at that, the home preservers and canners are being spared a good deal of labor this summer.

See Beard's full page Red Tag Sale advertisement in this issue.

Dr. F. L. Lightfoot has converted one of the frame store rooms on the corner opposite The Breckinridge News office into a garage which he will use for his car. He is now using Mr. L. C. Taul's garage.

gone only a little way when he met a storm. It was a terrific black storm that came rumbling down from the sky and crashing over the hills. It brought fire and thunderbolts with it and it seemed to shake the whole earth. Going into such a storm was like marching alone into an advancing army, but the gaint-boy did it and he was soon safely through the storm, just by facing it.

He met bravely all kinds of things, the dark, strangers and larger giants and unknown places and new kinds of hard work. He grew older and nearer to being a gaint-man before he turned toward home again. When he was almost there, he entered the forest and whom should he see, but his old friend, the dwarf, digging beside a stream!

"Here I am! Are you not glad to see me?" the young gaint called as he stepped across the stream with one stride.

"Let me alone. I am busy," the dwarf replied. Then, without looking up, he threw a pebble at the gaint. It hit his heart and he heard a loud crack.

"Now I have lost my inheritance," the gaint said to himself, "my heart is cracked."

"How did that happen?" his gaint-father asked when the boy reached home.

"I met and conquered storms and all kinds of dangers," the gaint-boy answered, "but my friend, the dwarf, threw a pebble at me and it cracked my heart."

"Oh, I should have told you about that before you started out, his gaint-father said, taking down a big book of rules that could be used in any land as well as the land of Let's Pretend. He read from it: "The misdeeds of others can do us no permanent harm." "So the dwarf's meanness doesn't count against you," he said, it only counts against the dwarf."

So the gaint-boy was given a beautiful wooded mountain for his inheritance, and the crack in his heart soon grew together. As for the dwarf he was always a little lonely dwarf and never grew up to be anything else.

THE OLD TIN BUCKET

No more do we see the familiar old tin bucket—mayhaps, bent, dented and scarred, wending its way to the corner in the hands of an over-all-clad worker to be deposited on the counter at Mike's, accompanied by the demand "A dime's worth o'suds."

It was only a few years ago that Friend Jim remarked one day, "Take this beer from him and you will have a changed laboring man, one who will prove a most complex problem. The laboring man now washes away fatigue, dissatisfaction and sorrow in a can of suds. It is his liquid solace, without it he will become restless, dissatisfied and unmanageable. He will awaken to the fact that he and his family lack food, clothing and luxuries others possess. He will awaken to his position in society and will demand his share of the better things of life. In this inflammable state of mind against employer, capital and church, he will prove himself susceptible to the guiles of the agitator and make excellent material for the radical socialist."

Five years ago, Jim's prediction seemed far fetched but past events have proved Friend Jim had something above his neck aside from a resting place for a brown Stetson.

In many ways it is best that the liquor business be abolished. Bryan is as heartily in favor of its elimination as we were of the Kaiser's abdication. No doubt, given time, everything will adjust itself and work out to the best interests of all, but in the meantime for the love of Mike, we pray, that a Moses be sent to guide us—D. & W. Chats.

Officers and enlisted men of the army, honorably discharged, graduates of the military and naval academies or schools where they have had military training under supervision of regular army officers and who have been certified to their fitness for commissions. Reserve officers may hold commissions in the guard without relinquishing their commissions in the reserve.

GERMAN GUNS USED AT CAMP KNOX.

Experience of handling of German artillery will be provided for the officers and men of the Eighty-first and Eighty-second Regiments of field artillery, stationed at Camp Knox, when this summer they will fire 2,400 rounds of German ammunition from German guns, ranging in calibre from 77 millimeters to 204 millimeters. The firing will take place on the Camp Knox range. The German guns and ammunition that the soldiers will use are material that was taken from the Germans under the terms of the armistice and only recently arrived at the Stithton cantonment. — Louisville Times.

KY. MINERS TO GET BACK PAY FROM NOV. 1919.

Madisonville, Ky., June 17.—The biggest case submitted to arbitration between coal operators and miners of western Kentucky was settled Wednesday when the Memphis Coal Mining company, operating mines twenty-five miles south of this city, signed an agreement to pay the 100 miners in their employ $20,000 back pay from Nov. 14, 1919, to April 1, 1920. The payment will be made in two installments.

Cases against the Williams Coal company, also operating a mine at Manington, in which $9,000 back pay is sought by the sixty miners in their employ for the same period as the Memphis Coal Mining company's miners, are pending in the Christian circuit court.

GIVES EACH OF HIS EMPLOYEES $100 ON HIS WEDDING DAY

Marlboro, Mass.—George F. Bond and Mrs. S. Jennie Eager were married at the parsonage of the First Congregational Church by Rev. E. Z. Stanbaugh. Before leaving on his honeymoon, Mr. Bond went to his market and passed eight of his employees an envelope, saying it contained orders for the week. The clerks found $100 in each envelope. That was the first they knew their employer had been married.

Mr. Bond is a director of the People's National Bank and is prominent in Board of Trade circles. The bride is a member of the Woman's and Tuesday Clubs, also the First Church Congregational.

DUST

Louis Ginsberg, in New York Times.

Dust upon my window sill—Only dust it is, and still, Drifting dust is where we know Everything will ever go!

Every dream and every plan—Everything of every man—Every dome and pillar—Must Molder back into the dust. Where are Babylon and Tyre? Where the temple and the spire, Fabulous in Troy and Rome? All have drifted to the loam! Lover and beloved, too—Every kiss they ever knew, Even every sweet caress, Flaming once to loveliness—Sleep where every glory must In the drift of passing dust.

Dust upon my sill—who knows But it was a crimson rose? Did it blossom in the sun For a wanton or a nun? Dust, the wind is bringing in—Who can tell what secret sin? What the fever, what the pain, What the fire in the brain, What the virgil and the prayer Carelessly is sleeping there?

Dust upon my window sill—Only dust it is, and still, Drifting dust is where we know Everything will ever go!

LOWDEN MONEY RETURNED

St. Louis, June 16.—Robert E. Moore, a delegate to the Republican National Convention from the Twelfth (St. Louis) district in a statement today, asserted he had returned the $2,500 of Lowden funds he received. The return was made through an intermediary in Chicago last Thursday, Moore said.

Nat Goldstein, delegate from the Eleventh district, last night asserted the $2,500 of Lowden money given him had been returned.

LAST RELIC OF CHICAGO FAIR TO GO.

Chicago, June 16.—The old Field Museum in Jackson Park, originally the art gallery of the World's Columbian Exposition and one of the last remaining relics of the 1893 fair, will be wrecked, it was announced today. Tennis courts will be laid on the ground it occupies.

Old hens require a much larger amount of feed of all kinds than do pullets to produce a dozen eggs.

KENTUCKY POOLS WOOL, LEXINGTON

New Idea of Selling Wool For The Entire State. State Auction To Be Held.

Lexington, Ky., June 18, 1920. The Department of Markets, of the College of Agriculture, originated the plan of pooling all the wool in the State into one large central pool. The popularity of this idea is well demonstrated by the fact that applications have been made for wool growers from Ohio and Indiana to have their wool in this sale. This State Auction will be held in a tobacco warehouse in Lexington, June 28th. Some thirty or more counties in the State have pooled their wool which is being graded by expert graders using the samples will be submitted from each county at the central auction and there the buyers will have the privilege of bidding on about 750,000 pounds of Kentucky's wool.

But Think of the Price of Shoes.

One of the best ways to bring back gasoline to 20 cents is to use a 1920 model walking stick—New Haven Register.

And Look at the Price of Lamb!

"Speakin' of the irony of fate," began Uncle Bill Bottletop. "What do you know about it?" "Quite some. This is the first Spring that my little mint patch has looked like it was really goin' to amount to something."—Washington Star.

Wife (sadly)—You don't love me any more.

Husband—Most certainly I do.

She—Then why do you rush off to the club?

He—My dear, absence makes the heart grow fonder, you know.

CARTER'S LANDING

A good roads meeting was held here Sunday. Tom Flood, of Holt was elected chairman. Rube Hawkins of this place, secretary and treasurer. Rube reports no money in the treasury as yet. Fred Dutschke, Carl Black, John Rhodes, Pat Greenwood and Rube Hawkins road builders. Tom Flood used a walking stick for a gavel. When he would call the meeting to order you would think it Uncle Joe Cannon calling Congress to order. Rube Hawkins made a powerful speech but it didn't move that slide down on the old pike. Fred Dutschke says if you don't get a road between Stephensport and Cloverport soon he will hitch his tractor to his automobile and go to Cloverport in spite of high water slides, etc. Carl Black says I haven't seen my friends in Cloverport for so long I'm thinking of getting my life insured and try to make the trip down the railroad a foot. John Rhodes, of Addison: "My name is Rhodes, of course I'm for good roads, but of all the roads I ever saw is between Carter's Landing and Cloverport." While secretary Hawkins was writing the minutes of the meeting Tom Flood suggested that we hold a meeting of the Bachelors Club. Mike Ketzner, of Holt, objected wasn't a quorum present.

Lawrence Rush, of Persimmon Flat says the roads are so bad you couldn't get to Cloverport by wireless. The Bachelors Club is offering a reward for Allen Jennings, who deserted a few weeks ago and got married. "Good bye Allen, hope you will be happy ever after."

Speaking about matrimony Father Henry had a time getting the youngsters started but it looks like now he would have to call the police or take a vacation. Don't get one publication off hand 'till there is another. There is so many young men going West this spring and some will have to take their places. Mike Ketzner, of Holt, Frank Greenwood, of Stephensport, Shorty Wright, of Cloverport, Herman O'Bryan, of Tobinsport, are making their debut in society. Look out girls. Murrel Beatty, the Cloverport pool man reports one leap year proposal from Tobinsport, Ind. But there was no name signed to it. Had James Hawkins arrested on supposition. James proved an alibi and was released. Roy Beavin reports three proposals so far, but the girls had no home to offer and wouldn't promise to cut the wood, so he had to reject them.

"IT'S GRANDEST THING IN WORLD"

Gained Ten Pounds And Is Full Of Life And Energy Since Taking Tanlac.

"It was only three weeks ago that I began taking Tanlac and already I have gained ten pounds and am now doing my housework for the first time in over a year," said Mrs. Florence Krause, 419 South Shelby St., Louisville, Ky., in conversation with a Tanlac representative recently.

"I had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for several years and last year I got so bad off I had to have an operation and it left me in a worse condition than ever. My nerves were so badly unstrung that any sudden noise would make me scream out and became almost hysterical. My stomach was upset, my appetite, was the poorest it had ever been and I could not retain the little I did eat. I suffered terribly from nausea and had smothering spells so bad they would have to loosen my clothes and I would just have to gasp to keep breathing. My sleep was always restless and I had awful spells of neuralgia in my head. I was too weak to do any of my housework, felt tired and fagged out all the time and lost nearly all interest in life.

"One of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and I always will be thankful I took her advice and started taking it. Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth, for I have taken only three bottles and already I am feeling better and stronger than I have in many years. I can hardly eat enough to satisfy my appetite, nothing ever hurts me and I am no longer bothered with those smothering spells. I have not had a sign of neuralgia since I began taking Tanlac and my nerves are just as steady and strong as ever in my life. My sleep is sound and refreshing and life is now worth living. Tanlac has given me health, strength and happiness, and I am glad to tell others in the hopes that they too may be benefited by this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Cloverport by Wedding's Drug Store, in Kirk by Mattingly Bros., in Addison by L. D. Addison, and in Ammons by Wm. H. Dutschke.—Advertisement.

SUGGESTIONS TO GET RID OF HESSIAN FLY.

One of Oldest And Most Destructive Enemies to Wheat Crop Is Here.

The Hessian fly, one of the oldest and at times one of the most destructive enemies of the wheat crop in the United States, is again on the increase. Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture make the following suggestions for combating the pest:

Practice crop rotation. Do not sow wheat on stubble if it is possible to avoid doing so.

Plow under all infested stubble and ruined wheat, where practicable, soon after harvest.

Destroy all volunteer wheat by harrowing, disking, plowing, or some other method.

Plow all land to be sown to wheat as early and deeply as existing conditions permit, and prepare a thoroughly pulverized and compacted seed bed. Conserve moisture against a period of drought at seeding time.

Use good seed.

Fertilize.

Sow wheat during the fly-free period, as advised by your farm advisor or State experiment station.

Adhere to these practices every year, whether the fly is abundant or scarce. They will help to keep it scarce.

JAPAN DEVELOPING NEW CLOTH FIBRE.

Unless commercial difficulties arise it appears that a certain kelp, or sea grass furnishes an ideal fibre for mixing with cotton to produce nearly every kind of cloth now used in such tremendous quantities in the Far East.

The grass grows in great quantities along the rocky shores of Japan, and runs from narrow strips to three feet in width and is often found in sixteen foot lengths. The most plentiful supply is found in from twenty-five to thirty feet of water at low tide. The kelp is now being used by a process upon which a patent was granted in 1918.

Cloth produced from the new fibre mixed with cotton has a pleasing gloss and takes dye better than pure cotton. Threads made of the combination are much stronger than pure cotton threads and far more durable, as has been proved by making some of it into fish nets which have lasted a surprisingly long time. Experiments have proved that this combination produces splendid material for summer clothes and shirtings, especially imitation pongee. The fibre also produces a splendid paper.

STATES RECEIVING AID.

On the average the States have submitted project statements for nearly 95 per cent of their respective allotments and have entered into agreement to construct highways which call for about one-half of their Federal-aid money. The projects actually completed and paid for are comparatively few, but they are materially exceeded in number by those which are practically completed. California, Delaware, Illinois, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, and Wyoming have statements for all or nearly all of each submitted approved project their allotments.

PREDICT UNIVERSAL USE OF FINGERPRINTS.

New York City.—The fingerprints of every man, woman and child will be taken eventually and kept on file as the only sure means of identification is the opinion of fingerprint experts who gathered here last week at the McAlpin Hotel for the first annual convention of their organization, the International Society for Personal Identification.

Walter E. Turbush, president, pointed out that not only would general fingerprinting be an infallible means of identifying persons found dead without any other clues, but would be of inestimable value in proving identity in financial matters and on other occasions which continually come up. When people realize that their fingerprints are a protection a general system of print recording will come into effect.

TEN MONTHS' BUILDING WORK SHOWN IN TEN MIN.

Motion pictures of construction work in which a large public building appears to rise from the ground like magic, being completed in the ten minutes' duration of the film, are being shown before various engineering societies by government representatives, according to an article in the July Popular Mechanics Magazine. The structure is the Industrial Building of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, and the pictures were made by exposing a short length of film every day during the ten months of work on the building.

POTATO-SACKING MACHINE IS ATTACHMENT FOR DIGGER

Now that machines for digging potatoes are in common use, the next step is to provide automatic means for loading them into sacks. An Ohio inventor has just developed such a mechanism, in the shape of a three-wheeled trailer which attaches to the back of the digger, according to an illustrated article in Popular Mechanics Magazine for July. The front wheel has a caster mounting, enabling it to follow the digger in turning at the end of a row. An elevated inclined screen receives the potatoes from the conveyor of the digger. The sacks are hung on four hooks at the rear, their bottoms supported by a small platform.

2,790 ROAD PROJECTS APPROVED

13,540 Miles of Federal Aid Roads Are Under Construction, Increase Since War.

The remarkable rate at which the number of Federal-aid road-building projects has increased since the war is shown in a summary relating to all such work from September 30, 1916, to April 30, 1920, which has been prepared by the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. On the latter date the States had filed with the bureau 2,885 project statements, of which 2,790 had been approved, representing 27,796 miles of highway. The totals on April 30, 1919, were little more than one-third these amounts. Up to May 1, of this year 1,974 projects had proceeded to the stage at which plans, specifications, and estimates had been delivered to the Bureau of Public Roads. The plans, specifications, and estimates of 1,827 of these had been recommended for approval, representing 13,845 miles. Project agreements had actually been executed and construction work in progress on 1,569 projects, totalling 11,987 miles. In addition, work had been begun on about 100 projects for which agreements had not actually been signed, thus expediting the progress of the work and bringing the total mileage under construction up to 13,540. The summary shows that a great reduction has been made in the time required for preliminary work before actual construction is begun.

A MIXTURE THAT STABLE FLIES SHUN.

Many malodorous mixtures, particularly of an oily nature, have some value as repellents for stable flies, but in preparing these care should be taken that they are not made too strong, especially when animals are being worked in the hot sun, as they are likely to cause overheating and often produce shedding of the hair. A mixture of fish oil (1 gallon), oil of pine tar (2 ounces), oil of pennyroyal (2 ounces), and kerosene (1/2 pint), was found to be fairly effective in keeping the flies off of live stock for a short time when applied lightly, but thoroughly, to the parts of the animals not covered with blankets or nets.

WOOL SKIRTS ARE IMPORTANT

There are so many kinds of separate skirts that a little book might be written about them. But the practical skirt of wool, for daily wear, which was the forerunner of all the others, is the most important. It is made of indistinct plaids, cross bars and stripes this season, in which soft dark colors are beautifully combined. The skirts are usually laid in wide or narrow box plaits according to the size of the plaid or width of the stripe. As the season advances wool skirts will be replaced by others of cotton for utility wear. These are shown now in plain white and in white striped or figured with a color. Pearl buttons sparingly used remain the favorite finish.

1ST. DIV. MEN, CAMP TAYLOR, PREPARING CIRCUS.

Will Be 3 Ring Affair With Parade Mile Long. All Kinds of Animals.

Glittering band wagons and wild animal cages direct from the winter quarters of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus at West Baden, Ind., lent for the 1st Division Circus, arrived at Camp Taylor last week and are now quartered in G area awaiting a few additional touches of the painter's hand.

The cages are from a lot not taken on the road this year, and the show management willingly turned them over to the overseas veterans to make more realistic their exhibition, which is to be seen in Louisville for an extended number of performances, beginning Saturday, July 31. It was decided last week that Indianapolis should be given dates for the big show and the distance will be made overland from Louisville. The circus will go from there to Chicago for two weeks.

Rehearsals are being held at Camp Taylor daily and animal trainers—professionals and experts—will take up their work shortly. The division has at last obtained a snake charmer and has ordered an assortment of snakes from New York. There will be elephants, camels and Indians. Some rare bareback riding will be seen, as will juggling, tumbling, high-wire walking and acrobatic stunts. Chariot races are down on the program and there will be many clowns. It will be a three-ring circus and the promoters say the parade will be a mile long.

CHINA HEAVY BUYER OF U. S. TOBACCO.

Hongkong—Despite the fact that Hongkong takes American leaf tobacco to the value of almost $2,000,000 per annum and imports Philippine leaf tobacco to the value of $300,000 more, the export of tobacco and tobacco products from the port is nearly twice its imports. It is difficult to secure reliable figures as to all aspects of the trade, for the official import returns of Hongkong do not include imports from South China ports whence most of the Chinese leaf and prepared tobacco come.

There is also some difference as to the classification of "raw" and "prepared" tobacco in the Chinese and Hongkong returns. The Chinese customs returns show exports of tobacco leaf and stock from China to Hongkong in 1918 to the value of $881,864 and of "prepared" tobacco to the value of $2,034,396. About five-sixths of these imports come from ports in China whose exports so far have not been included in Hongkong import returns, thus leaving something like $2,500,000 worth of tobacco from South China to be added to the port's imports as shown by Hongkong statistics.

Of the imports of raw leaf tobacco the United States is credited in the Hongkong returns with a value of $1,939,177, the Philippines also being credited with a value of $700,707.

FARM WASTES THAT ARE BEING UTILIZED.

Something like one-third of the total production of grain straw in the United States is not being used to advantage, and of this amount one-half is an absolute loss. Of the 245,000,000 tons of corn stover produced annually in the United States it is estimated that only 81.5 per cent is fed to stock, and that at least 35 per cent of this amount is lost through wasteful methods of feeding. Similarly, during the past years large quantities of cottonseed meal have been used for direct fertilizing purposes, which could be used to better advantage for feeding cattle, since not over 35 per cent of its fertilizing value is lost when it is so used.

Hog Births Are 10 Per Cent Fewer Than Last Year. Calves Are 22 Per Cent Less.

A falling off in the numbers of cattle and hogs in the United States occurred during the first four months of this year, as compared with the like period last year, according to reports of special livestock reporters of the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture.

In the case of hogs the births during January, February, March and April were about 10 per cent fewer than in the same months last year. The marketings have fallen off about 15 per cent; the farm slaughter was about the same in both seasons; but the deaths on farms this year are over 40 per cent heavier than last year to May 1. Taking into consideration both the births and the deaths (from all causes), it appears that there has been a relative reduction of about 5 per cent during the first four months of this year as compared with the trend during the first four months of last year.

The birth of calves from January 1, to May 1, were about 22 per cent fewer this year than last year. The net disposition of cattle by marketings, farm slaughter, and deaths was about 9 per cent greater than last year; it appears that there has been a relative reduction of about 6 per cent in total number of cattle as compared with last year during the four months January 1, to May 1.

COOPERATION BETWEEN MAN AND MACHINE ON THE FARM.

Specialists in farm management during the past year have been making investigations for the Department of Agriculture in the saving in labor that may be made by the use of modern farm machinery. Its was the first comprehensive study of the subject and its purpose was to show from field tests how the greatest practical results may be obtained from the minimum of labor.

The report of these specialists was recently published by the Department. It shows that one man does 80 per cent, more work with a 28-inch horse drawn plough than with a single bottom plough, that a portable elevator reduces the time of unloading grain about 75 per cent, that a hay loader reduces the time of loading 25 per cent, and that the corn binder increases the result of man labor 50 per cent over cutting and shocking by hand.

The saving in man power is still greater when a tractor is used. "A three bottom plough drawn by a suitable tractor," says the report, "enables one man to accomplish from 60 to 70 per cent, more than does the two bottom plough drawn by six horses." Comparing the present results of a man's work with those of the past the Department says that "a farmer has been enabled to produce 57 bushels of potatoes with one average hour's labor where 50 years ago he produced only a third of that amount," and that where today a man produces 127 pounds of cotton a day as an average of the season's work, a half century ago he produced only 45 pounds.

The chief interest in these figures just at present lies in the relation which they bear to the shortage of farm labor. From them the farmer can get what consolation he may as he reads the survey of the situation just issued by the Department. According to this survey the available supply of farm labor is 72 per cent normal; in other words the situation "is more acute now than it was at the immediate close of the war when the drafted farm boys were still in the army."

The complaint of the farmers, especially in the middle West, where the largest manufacturing of farming machinery are situated, has been that these establishments take all of his laborers from him. He has not been inclined to consider the returns these laborers make him as producers of labor saving machinery. He declares today that though he has improved working conditions and is offering an increase of from 15 to 25 per cent in wages he cannot compete with the cities in obtaining help.

There is no doubt considerable truth in this and he is not likely to be appeased by the showing made by the Agricultural Department of the great help that the cities have actually given to him in his work. The same cry shortage of labor was heard about this time in 1915, yet a billion bushel wheat crop was produced; it was heard again last year when the nation produced its second largest yields. If there was a real shortage of labor on the farm in either year is was made up by the superiority of American labor saving machinery. Despite the present alarm there is reason to believe that this same cooperation between man and machinery will again result in a successful harvest of this years crop—New York Sun and Herald.

LIVE STOCK MARKET HAS FASTEST NEWS SERVICE

Federal Bureau of Markets
Equipped With Fastest Means of Communication.

The Federal Bureau of Markets news service on live stock and meats, hay, feeds and seeds, and dairy products, and fruits and vegetables, are designed to keep before producers, distributors, and consumers a picture of the movement of important crops to market, the supplies arriving in all of the principal consuming and distributing centers and the wholesale prices prevailing in each. To make its reports of the greatest practical usefulness, the Bureau has equipped itself with the fastest system of communication available. Its branch offices in the great consuming and distributing markets are connected with leased telegraphed lines and operated by Bureau telegraphers. These wires are busy from 8 to 12 hours a day in the transmission of market information which is vital to intelligent and systematic food distribution.

From the time the live stock markets open in the morning until the close of the day's business, the Bureau representatives at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and East St. Louis send out a telegraphic report from one of the other of these markets every 15 minutes. The sales of live stock in the Chicago yards alone average more than $3,000,000 a day and the value of the live stock sold in the public stock yards of this country is more than $5,000,000,000 annually—figures indicating the importance of supply information that is authoritative.

When a market is oversupplied with a product—particularly a highly perishable fruit or vegetable—a great waste results. The product spoils and becomes unfit for use and the dealers suffer a financial loss on account of this spoilage and also on account of the fact that they must sell their stock at a sacrifice in order to dispose of them at all. Gluts of this kind tend to occur frequently and were never always coincident with a scarcity of food in another place. Since the market news service on fruits and vegetables was instituted, this situation has improved materially.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES TO BE DROPPED WHEN THEY ARE 70

Washington, June 17.—Federal employees who have reached the age of retirement (70 years), although they have not given the minimum of fifteen years' service required under the retirement law, must be dropped from the rolls, Attorney General Palmer ruled today.

Such employees, he said, cannot draw retirement pensions.

The ruling was announced in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Payne.
